Russian Representative Body
to Be Called in June.

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS SAY

A Successor to Fr. Gapon Has Arisen and He Is Making a Great Stir Among the Workmen.

St. Petersburg, April 27.—Several newspapers announce definitely that the representative body promised in the imperial rescript will meet in St. Petersburg in June.

The Novosti advises France to renounce the idea of revenge for the annexation of Alsace and Lorraine, and effect a rapprochement with Germany.

Fr. Gapon has a successor in the person of a priest named Nicholas, who has been making a great stir among the workmen, addressing them nightly in various parts of the industrial districts. The influence of his personality is considered to be so dangerous that further meetings have been prohibited.

The question of constructing a canal to connect the Black sea with the Baltic has again been taken up by the minister of finance.

CANNOT ANNEX CRETE.

Prince George Is Warned by the Powers.

Rome, April 27.—In accordance with the decision of the meeting on April 24 of the British, Russian and French ambassadors, under the presidency of Foreign Minister Tittoni, the Italian Foreign Office has communicated to Prince George the information that the protecting Powers regard the annexation of the island of Crete to Greece as impossible. The communication adds that the Powers are prepared to act energetically for the pacification of Crete.

TWO NEW PLANS.

Receiverhip Scheme for the Equitable Brought Out.

New York, April 27.—Two new developments in the Equitable affair were brought forward yesterday. Sullivan & Cromwell, according to a well established report, are behind a comprehensive plan to bring about a general receivership for the Equitable and eliminate Messrs. Tarbell, Hyde and Alexander from the situation.

It also became known that strong influence has been brought to bear on Mr. Erick and his associate investigators to hasten and make public what they have learned about the society's management; in piecemeal, if necessary.

The new receivership plan, as reported, was to extend the movement for the appointment of receivers in various states, and finally coalesce them into one general receivership of the Equitable. The report had it that representatives of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell had approached large policyholders all over the country to enlist them in this movement. If actions were brought in separate states or United States court districts, the judges would follow the usual procedure of naming the receiver appointed by the court in whose jurisdiction the parent suit was brought.

In effect, there would be but one general receiver, who would take hold of the affairs of the Equitable, under the orders of the court, and both the president, as the presiding official of the society, and Mr. Hyde as the controlling stockholder, would have to step aside till the receivership had been dissolved. Five separate suits for receivers have already been started in various states, and it is declared that another will soon be started in New Jersey.

GOLL IS WANTED.

Police Notified to Look for Cashier from Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 27.—The excitement in banking circles caused by the defection of Frank G. Bigelow, late president of the First National Bank of this city, has entirely subsided, and business is again normal. There was a noticeable absence of any depositors within the region of any of the banks prior to the opening of the doors for business yesterday. The depositors who for two days clamored for their money at two of the banks, were given reassurance from so many sources of the soundness of the institutions affected that the excitement died away almost as rapidly as it had sprung up.

Interest now centres in the capture of the former assistant cashier, Henry G. Goll, who is believed to have left the city. United States Marshal Thomas B. Reed has enlisted the services of the city police, and Chief John T. Jansen has notified the police departments in every large city of the country to look out for him.

BANK CASHIER GOES.

Unable to Explain a Shortage of $3,300, Although He Repays It.

Peabody, Mass., April 27.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Warren National Bank last night, Frank C. Merrill, for thirty years cashier of the institution, was removed. A director said that an examination of the books of the bank by National Bank Examiner Ewing had developed an apparent shortage of $3,300. This, it was believed, was due to lax methods of bookkeeping. Cashier Merrill promptly made good the amount of the seeming shortage.

OREGON LAND TRAILS GO ON.

Effect of Decision Made Against Senator Mitchell.

Portland, Or., April 27.—The decision against United States Senator Mitchell in effect is against all the pleas in abatement filed by the numerous defendants in the land fraud cases and removes all obstacles to the trial on the real issue.

Without exception every contention made by United States District Attorney Heney, in his argument against the plea in abatement, is supported by Judge Bellinger. The contention of Mr. Heney that George Gustin, a member of the Federal grand jury which indicted Senator Mitchell, was duly qualified to serve, was supported. The defence contended that Gustin was not a citizen of the United States.

INCENDIARIES IN BOSTON.

Five More Blazes Set Last Night — $1,000 Reward Offered.

Boston, April 27.—Despite the fact that a reward of $1,000 has been offered for the apprehension of incendiaries in this city, the work of the firebugs continues. Tuesday night five blazes were started, making seven, which the police say were set since Monday midnight. At a fire in a house on Heath street, Roxbury, a man and two children were rescued with difficulty. The most threatening fire was in the building at 208 Burlington avenue, owned by the Merchants' Wharf Corporation. The fire was checked after a damage of $5,000. An empty house on Athens street and a home on St. Botolph street, in the Back Bay district, were fired, but no great damage done.

RICH BOY WANTED TO WORK.

Mother Would Not Let Him, So He Ran Away.

St. Louis, April 27.—Clarence Stevens, twenty years old, is being held at police headquarters on the telegraphed request of the Philadelphia police authorities, on the charge of being a runaway boy.

Stevens live at Penn Argyle, a suburb of Philadelphia, admits his identity, and expresses his willingness to return. He says he left home for the purpose of earning his own living, his mother, who he says is wealthy, not permitting him to work.

SMITH NOT IDENTIFIED

Pawnbroker Won't Say He Was Pistol Buyer.

PRISONER IS JUBILANT.

Smiles and Says That She Is Much Encouraged — Wild Mob at Yesterday's Trial in Which Women Faint.

New York, April 27.—The culmination of the prosecution's case in the trial of Nan Patterson was reached yesterday afternoon. Assistant District Attorney Rand sprang his sensation and it fell flat. Pawnbroker Hyman Stern, from whom the pistol with which Young was killed was purchased, faced J. Morgan Smith and failed to identify him as the purchaser. It was the dramatic moment of the trial, nevertheless. The interest of the observers was at white heat; the court room was so absolutely quiet that the heavy breathing of the witness as he leaned forward to take a careful look at Smith was audible. The tension was broken by his words, quietly spoken:

"I can not say that he is the man." Then a hissing sound filled the room as though each person in it had simultaneously taken a sharp drawn breath. This was shortly after noon. Stern had described the purchaser as a man not unlike Smith, and the woman who had accompanied him as a small person, clearly not the defendant.

The Smiths Appear.

Out of the score of attendants before the entrance to the pen in the rear of the room, stepped two figures. One of a man, tall, broadshouldered and slightly stooping, with a face that looked as though it had never known cold, with whiteness heightened by the thin, wiry red hair above. The other, a small woman, dressed in a dark tailored suit, a slip of a woman, whose face was as white as the man's. They were J. Morgan Smith and his wife, Julia, Nan Patterson's sister.

The two of them were conducted to the gate which leads into the jury box, which is diagonally opposite the witness chair, at, say, a distance of twenty feet. Nan Patterson, turning, saw them come in. This was what she had been looking forward to with dread.

"I will prove that J. Morgan Smith bought the revolver," Rand had said on Monday, and she had broken down. Now that the moment had come, she turned to face the witness, clasped her fingers and sat perfectly still to watch the test.

"Could you say that this is the woman?" Rand asked, pointing to Julia Smith.

"I could not," Stern replied quickly. "Could you say that in a general way the man who bought the pistol resembles the man before you?" Rand asked. The suspense was drawn out by Levy's objection.

When it was sustained by the Recorder Rand came flatly to the issue.

"Is he the man?" Stern waited—it must have seemed an age to the prisoner. After what had actually been the flight of only a few moments, the Recorder looked inquiringly at the pawnbroker.

"Answer," he said.

"I cannot say," came in a low tone, and the tension broke. Color flew back into the face of the woman. Smith shifted his weight from one foot to the other and ran his tongue over his lip. Nan Patterson moved and a smile lighted up her face. O'Reilly, one of the lawyers, whispered to her and she nodded her head in a relieved way.

The jurors, who have been leaning forward in their chairs, now sank back. A few minutes later court adjourned, and J. Randolph Patterson ran to his daughter and, leaning over the railing, took her hand. She spoke to him:

"I feel as though I had a right to feel encouraged," she said.

Then arising, she walked with a light step from the room.

No such riotous scene was ever witnessed in the criminal courts building as that which took place in the corridor before the court room as the afternoon session of the trial was about to be opened. Women and men fought to get inside the court room. Several of the women fainted and many had their dresses torn.

The first witness yesterday was a representative of a well-known arms

SPRING TROUBLES

Winter's Confinement, Lack of Exercise. Even Aldermen Don't Escape.

"If you live a confined life, get no out-door work or exercise, experience symptoms of general weakness, forgetfulness, lassitude, irritability, loss of appetite, or pain in the small of the back, there is no question about it you are suffering from spring fever and inflammation of the mucous membrane. Alderman Peter A. Wendling of the Chicago City Council has just written this letter on the subject," said Mr. Wells of the Red Cross Pharmacy.

"Last spring, after I had completed my canvass for election to the City Council, I felt worn out and out of sorts. I could not determine any particular seat of my ailment. I was able to attend to my duties, but any great effort distressed me and I lost considerable weight. As I had enjoyed uniformly good health I was not greatly alarmed and felt that my trouble would soon wear itself out.

"Finally I consulted a physician and his diagnosis was that I was suffering from incipient intestinal catarrh. He advised me to take a course of treatment at one of the celebrated medicinal springs. I was inclined to take his advice, but found it difficult to get away from my public and private business. While I was hesitating what to do, one of my political friends advised me to try Muc-Tone. He told me that it had cured his wife and he said, 'Alderman, it will cure you.' Well, he was right; I think I took four or five bottles during the course of a month, with the result that I was entirely free from pain and had recovered my normal energy and buoyancy. I got back my old weight, and when any of my friends commented on my improved appearance, I told them it was all due to Muc-Tone."

"His experience is no different from that of many others," continued Mr. Wells. "Recall Muc-Tone cures 'Spring Fever,' by working through the blood, thus reaching the affected membranes wherever they are located; drives out the poison and allays the inflammation, for as it is a powerful nutritive tonic, it revitalizes the blood, soothes the strained nerves, builds up the body, and relieves you entirely of that tired, worn-out feeling which comes with the change of seasons."

"Any customer of ours who purchases a fifty cent bottle of Muc-Tone, gives it a fair trial, and doesn't find that it will do all we claim for it can have his money back by returning to us the empty bottle." Red Cross Pharmacy.

manufacturing company, who identified the revolver which has figured in the case as a weapon made by his company. He was followed by Dr. Charles Phelps, of the board of police surgeons, an expert on pistol shot wounds.

Perhaps the most sensational development Tuesday in the trial of Nan Patterson, charged with the murder of Caesar Young, came when coroner's physician O'Hanlon took the witness stand for the prosecution and said in reply to questions that he had changed his opinion that Young committed suicide.

5 BEARS IN 2 DAYS.

President Roosevelt Bags Three of Those Killed by His Party.

Glenwood Springs, Col., April 27.—President Roosevelt's hunting trip has been crowned with success far beyond his expectations or those of the most sanguine of his guides. Three bears were killed by the party Tuesday, and two on Monday—one by the President and one by Dr. Lambert.

AMERICAN FISHERMAN CAUGHT.

Forfeit Gill Nets and Catch at Amherstburg, Ont.

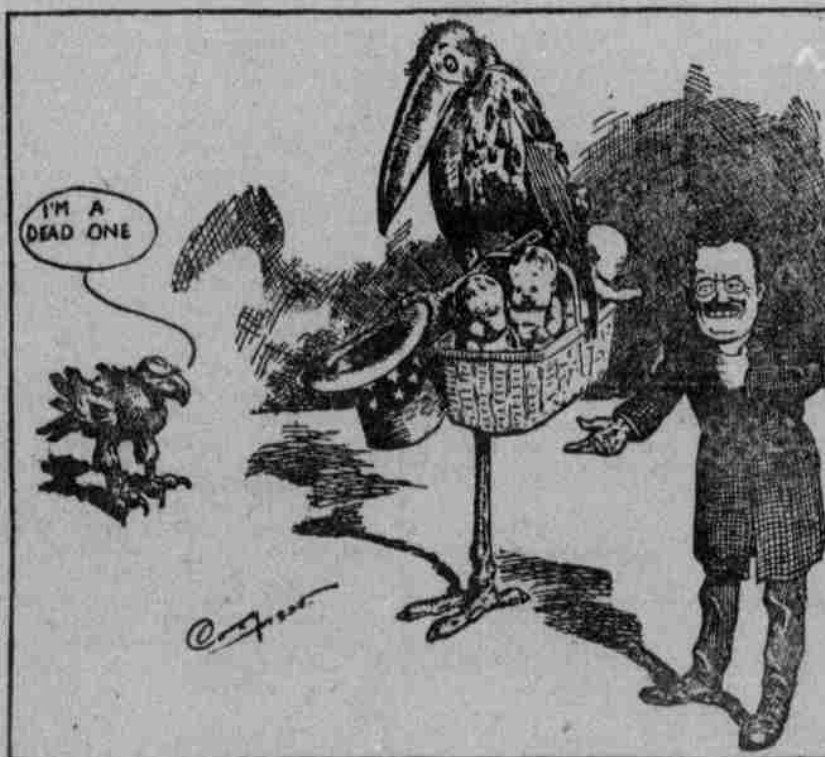

Port Stanley, Ont., April 27.—The Canadian cruiser Vigilant arrived here yesterday with 181 gill nets and five hundred pounds of herring taken from American fishermen off Amherstburg, Ont.

CAL-CURA GUARANTEED.

So positive are we that Cal-cura Solvent, Dr. David Kennedy's latest medicine, will cure the worst case of kidney and bladder troubles that we will return your money if it does not cure. Cal-cura Solvent's wonderful power to cure diseases of the kidneys and bladder is the happy result of the efforts of that skilled physician and surgeon, Dr. David Kennedy, to make a medicine that would dissolve and expel from the system stones, gravel and uric acid. In this way Cal-cura Solvent not only cures the disease but also removes all irritating causes. It is not a patent medicine, but a prescription used by Dr. Kennedy in his large private practice with unflinching success. It acts upon a newly discovered principle, and cannot fail, so we are able to make a guarantee of this nature. Begin its use today and get well.

WASHINGTON THIS TIME

Boston Americans Continue at Foot of Heap.

A GOOD GAME YESTERDAY

Visiting Team Scored Twice While the Champions Had to Be Content With a Single Tally — New York Beat Philadelphia.

Boston, April 27.—The despised Washingtons added to the Champions' cup of woe yesterday afternoon when they took the first game in the series by the close score of two to one in an extremely close game of ball. The Washington team has been playing a good game all the spring, and they came to Boston after giving the New Yorks a bad scare. The teams were quite even in the running, each making five hits and two slumps in the field.

The home team has won but two games this season out of ten played.

WILL FIGHT MAY 5.

Arrangements Made for the Battle Between Britt and White.

San Francisco, April 27.—James Britt and Jabez White, the English light weight champion, will fight in Woodward's pavilion in this city May 5. The supervisors have granted the Hayes Valley club a permit, with the understanding that the club will promote the Britt-White engagement.

Charlie Mitchell, representing White, has been met by Britt's manager and reached an agreement. The articles call for the boxers to receive fifty per cent of the gross receipts, the winner to receive sixty per cent of this and the loser forty per cent.

AWAITING "PAT" CROWE.

Kidnapper of Young Eddie Cudahy to Surrender at Omaha.

Omaha, April 27.—Chief of Police Donahue this morning confirmed the report that he was hourly expecting the arrival of Pat Crowe, the kidnapper of young Eddie Cudahy, he having decided to surrender. The publicity given to this decision, however, might delay his advent somewhat.

It is said at the county attorney's office that there are no charges or indictments on file against Crowe. The old charges were wiped out when those against Callahan, indicted with Crowe, were dismissed. It is said to be unlikely that any new indictment will be entered, but a full confession will be had.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The collapse of several buildings suggests that the Buddenstiek tribe is not committing race suicide. Here the president would like to see an exception to his doctrine. —Chicago Record-Herald.

The simple life has its hold in Maine. Its legislators receive the princely pay of $150 a year. A proposition to double it referred to the voters at the last state election was defeated. —New York Tribune.

The only possible step in urban transportation beyond the moving platform will be the moving city, where business blocks will swing around for the man on the stationary sidewalk while he waits. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

The roe of the pike has been supposed to be a poisonous quality which excites, but Linnaeus, the famous naturalist, avers that he saw it dried and made into bread in Lapland.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT TONICS

Their Value Discussed—When to Take a Tonic—The Kind to Take and What to Avoid.

The word "tonic" covers a multitude of sins. People in all walks of life take tonics, and these tonics range from whiskey straight down to iron pills. Those who take their whiskey straight are to be commended for one thing; namely, their frankness. They cheerfully admit that they take alcoholic beverages and do not masquerade behind the innumerable patent medicines with which the country is flooded and which are called tonics. The average "Tonic," Blood Purifier, and "Nerve Invigorator" contain from 17 to 60 per cent alcohol, so that while these medicines (1) seem to make you feel better for the time being, this is caused entirely by the temporary stimulation of the alcohol. The reaction of such delusion leaves the system weaker than ever, and if their use is persisted in, a complete breakdown is bound to follow.

A true tonic builds up the tissues, enriches blood and improves circulation. In Magee's Emulsion we have a remedy which contains flesh-building and strengthening materials in a highly concentrated form, without a drop of alcohol. No temporary artificial stimulation follows its use, but a steady and constant invigorating influence is felt from the first day.

When you consider that Magee's Emulsion contains the purest Cod Liver Oil, in combination with Extract of Malt, to which is added Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, you must realize that as a muscle builder and nerve strengthener, it would be impossible to devise a remedy of greater value. Remember, not a drop of alcohol enters into Magee's Emulsion. It is a food and food alone. This superb remedy may be obtained of E. A. Drown, Druggist, Barre, Vt.

STIRRED BY LOOMIS CHARGE.

Capital Believes Roosevelt Will Take Action on His Return.

Washington, April 27.—Printed attacks on the integrity of Assistant Secretary Loomis' conduct while minister to Venezuela and charges that he received, while acting in his official capacity, a $10,000 check from the New York and Bermuda Asphalt company are attracting much attention in official circles.

It is known such reports have been communicated by foreign ministers in Venezuela to their governments, and thus the reports have become known to the diplomatic bodies in Washington. Secretary Taft yesterday declined to make any statement about the affair.

President Roosevelt is said to have satisfied himself that the charges are baseless, but it is now generally believed, in view of the grave nature of the attacks, that the president will have to give the matter further attention when he returns and that a statement in defense of Mr. Loomis' course will be issued.

CARNEGIE SAILS FOR SKIBO.

He Says a Few Words About "Tainted Money."

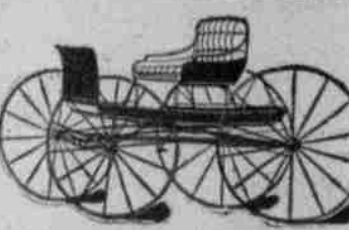

New York, April 27.—Andrew Carnegie sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamship Baltic. He was accompanied by Mrs. Carnegie and his daughter. They will spend the summer at Skibo Castle. Mr. Carnegie said he had very little to say, when seen just before the steamer sailed. "But Mr. Carnegie," he was asked, "could you not say something about this agitation regarding 'tainted money'?"

"No," he replied laughingly, "I am hardly in a position to discuss the subject. I never give money where I think that it will not be accepted. I believe that money given in any good cause will do good and bring about good results, even though the source may be considered 'tainted' by some."
